

I am simply SHOCKED that this power line broadband stuff ever got out of the LABORATORY. The interference is horrendus, and not just to ham radio operators! Recently, we hams got some "channels" on 5MHz (instead of a band of frequencies) because the feds, FEMA and military, wanted to keep their hold on the band. These "fed" users, and marine users, would ALSO be wiped out. Kill it now. Sincerely with 73, KF4Voo
